DE-BUNKED . . . Merv Willoughby (left) incoming president of the Campbell Rotary Club calmly stands by (knowing that his turn will come in another 12 months) as Cel Gerevas, Rotary president this past year goes through the traditional "de-bunking" ceremony as he steps down from the presidency of the club. Rotary 'Debunks' in Comic Ceremonies

More than 23 Rotary Club members and their wives gathered together for luncheon last Monday, when the annual "debunking" of outgoing officers took place in a traditionally hilarious ceremony.

Cel Gerevas, outgoing president, a hardware merchant, who is affectionately known to members as "nuts and bolts man", donned headgear, appropriately fashioned from a kettle, adorned with nuts, bolts and ribbons and topped with an off-and-on flashing light bulb.

Homer Hyde and Forrest Reese, masters of ceremonies for the affair, together with club members, hurled "insults" at the outgoing president, reminding him of "injustices" committed during his regime, and fined him for some of his more "flagrant crimes".

The spirit of merriment prevailed as other outgoing officers stepped down from positions they held in the club during the past 12 months, and continued during installation of new officers, when Merv Willoughby, New York Life Insurance Co. agent, accepted the gavel as new president of the club.

IT WAS HOTTER THAN - - -

Campbell was in fortunate spot this week while the torrid hot spell gripped this part of the state.

Not that Campbell wasn't hot!! ? !! !!

But so far as can be determined, there is no OFFICIAL temperature reading for Campbell.

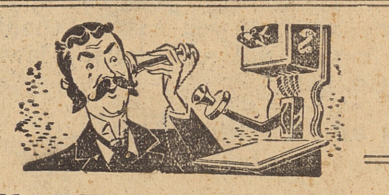
Other cities in our area were sweltering in their official thermometers and vieing with each other as to how high the mercury was climbing. Officially, that is. But not Campbell.

We had a choice . . It was hot or hotter. But not officially.

Unofficially a high of 95 plus was registered here on Tuesday and the same on Wednesday.

But most of us didn't have to have an official thermometer to tell us how hot it was.

We knew.
It was hotter than H--l.



On The Line in Campbell

Morris Wood, 19, who pled guilty to the armed robbery of the Cheerio Corner Grocery of Campbell in March of this year was sentenced Tuesday to the California Youth Authority. The other two involved in the robbery, Keith Keeley and Herbert Winks have pled not guilty and face trial July 24.

Melvin C. Melby, agent of the State Farm Insurance Companies in Campbell, has been invited to attend two meetings of the companies at the Statler Hotel in Los Angeles during the week of July 22. The meeting is for the companies' career field representatives who have earned the right to attend as a result of their accomplishments during the year.

Mr. and Mrs. Milt Nelson and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Nelson, owners and operators of the Nelson Grain and Feed Company in Campbell, leave today for a two-week vacation trip in the Hawaiian Islands. The two brothers and their families won the all-expense paid trip because their firm showed a big increase in the sale af Albers feeds over the previous year. According to Milt Nelson, who is president of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, the feed store sold 1500 more tons of feed than the year before. As someone remarked, "That's NOT chicken feed". But it was.

A. F. Peterson, 460 Jewell Drive, inventor of the "Triplex" aerator-fertilizer, who has lived in Campbell since 1949, said this week that the necessity of water conservation and trying to find some means to get water to the roots prompted him to invent the efficient aerator in 1952. Various stores and nurseries in this area have placed the tool in stock. Results have proved that Peterson has hit upon quite a gadget for the home gardener who has been trying to get rid of the "brown spots" for a long time.

Santa Clara County's two assemblymen, Bruce Allen(from this area) and Clark Bradley (from the northern end) apparently are not seeing eye-to-eye as to which state highway project in the county (Bayshore or Route 5) should be given the top priority. By telegram Allen this week urged the State Highway Commission give highest priority to the completion of Route 5 from Los Gatos to San Jose.

The assemblyman in his wire claimed that traffic conditions on 101 south of San Jose are worse than Bayshore. He said San Jose and the West Valley are the greatest bottlenecks in the San Francisco Bay area.

Bradley, on the other hand, has gone along with the opinion of civic leaders from the northern end of the county that the Bayshore should be given top billing. Palo Alto, Mountain View and Sunnyvale have long favored such action.

But residents of this area are wondering if the advocates of the Bayshore development have ever traveled Winchester Road or San Jose-Los Gatos Road on Sunday.

City Treasurer Ed Merrill reported this week that the City of Campbell had received $36,927.72 as its share of the in lieu tax from the state. The City Treasurer said that the figure represents more than a $3000 increase over last year.

Cops Nab Burglary Suspects

Local police only had to step outside their office on Monday of this week to make an arrest in a burglary investigation that occurred more than 100 miles from here.

Two young men, wanted by the Mendocino County sheriff's department for investigation on a burglary that occurred in that county, gained some knowledge this week in Campbell of how the long arm of the law works.

They were picked up by Campbell police within a half a block of the local police headquarters on Central Ave. by Sergeant John Morgan and Officer Dick Sutton.

The Campbell police had been on the lookout for three days for the two men after they had been notified by a deputy from Mendocino that the men might be in this area. The deputy called in person at the local police headquarters.

The deputy had very little information to give the Campbell police. He furnished a partial description and the name of one of the men and also the make of the car they were supposedly driving.

Careful investigation of every clue found that one of the suspects, giving his right name, had borrowed two gallons of gasoline from a local service station. The car also answered the description of a vehicle that had previously been "shaken down" by the Santa Clara police.

With these facts to go on, Sergeant Morgan and Officers Sutton practically fell out of their car on the third day of the search when, within a block of the police station on Central Ave. they saw the car they were looking for. Two men were standing by it.

The men, Othel Young, 20, and Victor Junior Sharrock, 18, were arrested by the local officers and turned over to the Mendocino sheriff's department. In addition, at the request of the Mendocino officials, the area along the creek was searched by local auxiliary police officers to see if any of the loot taken in the burglary could be located. But nothing was found.

Young had taken a room at the Campbell Hotel while Sharrock had been staying with relatives in this area. Both had been involved in car theft escapades previously, the police reported.

County Gives OK To City Numbers

Residents in the Campbell mailing district who live outside the city limits will have house numbers that tie in with the new house numbering plan as adopted by the city.

This was made known this week when the county agreed to extend the Campbell system into the county areas adjacent to the city.

The area within the postal district is roughly bounded on the south by Casey Road and Parr Ave. On the east by Meridian and Leigh and Dry Creek Road, on the north by Williams Road and Payne and on the west by San Tomas Aquino.

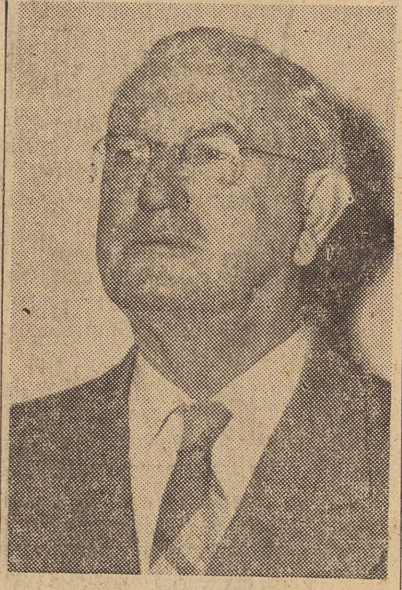
In the meantime the city building inspector's office reported this week that within two weeks the task of notifying all residents in town of their new numbers will have been completed. This week the office was mailing notifications to the last group of residents in the city.

Service Station Tops Permit List In May Here

A service station located at the corner of Campbell Ave. and San Tomas Road, led the list of building permits in the city during May. The service station, on property owned by E. W. Bucknall, leased by Texaco is being built by the Lang Construction Co. A building permit for $25,000 was issued by Campbell's building inspector's office.

Total permits for the month came to $39,111, the building inspector's office reports and included only one dwelling. Taking out the lone permit for a home was Charles Edwards, 507 W. Rincon. The permit was for $9072 and Floyd Little is the contractor.

Other permits issued during the month included: Charles Ledogar, 280 Esther, frame garage, $1694; C. M. Johnson, 362 Sunberry, rumpus room, $330; Fred E. Rost, 55 N. Second, garage, $1260; Harley Brendal, 123 Wren Way, redwood patio, $875; Mayfair Packing Corp., Hamilton Ave. and San Jose-Los Gatos Road, permit for 30-day fruit stand; Frank Rattie, 169 N. Milton, frame garage, $880.



H. E. LILLINGSTON
. . . Red Feather Chief

Lillingston Heads Campbell Area Community Chest

H. E. Lillingston has been named chairman of the 1956-57 Red Feather campaign in Campbell for support of Community Chest youth, health and welfare agencies it was announced this week.

The appointment of the Campbell civic leader was made by Edward H. Ryan, general chairman for Santa Clara County.

The Campbell campaign will coincide with other Community Chest appeals in San Jose, Santa Clara, Los Gatos, Cupertino and 20 other communities, to be conducted by the Community Welfare Council of Santa Clara County in October.

A retired civil engineer, Lillingston has lived in Campbell for the past nine years. Active in community affairs since his retirement, he headed the American Red Cross campaign last spring in Campbell and is serving on the Campbell committee for Guide Dogs for the Blind. He is active in Republican politics and past president of the Campbell Republican Assembly.

Youth, health and welfare agencies which serve Campbell including the Campbell Library Fund and Campbell Milk Fund will all benefit in 1957 from funds raised during the Red Feather campaign in October throughout Santa Clara County.

Council Studies Dogs and Zones

Among other items on their agenda, City Council members will talk about dogs and zone changes on Monday, July 2.

All dogs in Campbell will be required to be vaccinated for anti-rabies before they are licensed in an emergency ordinance that the City Council will probably adopt this Monday night.

At the same meeting, the City Dads will also hold a public hearing on the question of whether or not the zone should be changed from residential to light industrial at 50 Mission Way. The request of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Burda, owners of the Campbell Hatchery now on the location, was turned down by the City Planning Commission. Through their attorney, Paul T. Gallagher, of San Jose, the Burdas have appealed the ruling of the commission.

C. of C Hears National Chamber Guest Speaker

Lisle L. Berkshire, manager of the western division of the United States Chamber of Commerce, was guest speaker at the recent Campbell Chamber of Commerce dinner meeting, when a large group of local members and Campbell residents attended to hear his discussion on "Building a Better Business Climate".

Berkshire told of the results of a recent survey taken among high school seniors, farmers and other citizens all over the country. The survey showed, he said, that the average citizen in this country has an exaggerated idea of the profits actually realized by the average

YOUTHS SMACK FENCE

Two youthful sailors were charged this week by the local police for a hit and run accident in which approximately $40 damage was done to a fence at the PG&E substation at Hamilton and Central. After their car had failed to make the turn, the vehicle rammed into the fence. The youths allegedly backed away and took off without stopping to survey the damage. A witness took down the license number and the youths were later apprehended by the police on Gilman Ave.

Council, C of C Meet Tonight on Sales Tax

Merchants and chamber of commerce directors will hear directly from Campbell's City Council tonight why the City Dads feel it is necessary to adopt a sales tax for the city The meeting is called for 8 p.m. at fire house.

It is expected also that the latest development on the possibility of a county-wide tax will be reported.

At the last meeting of the City Council, Councilman Myron L. Fairchild, chairman of the finance and license committee, recommended to the Council that a one-cent levy be put into effect by the last quarter of the year.

This would raise approximately $47,000 annually for the city to be used in major improvements. The meeting with the Chamber of Commerce was set up by the Council to explain the reasons for the tax.

Since the Council meeting, the County Supervisors have indicated that they would be willing to compromise from their original stand of demanding a 25 per cent cut of all the revenue raised through a penny tax.

State Would Collect

Under the new state law, the state would act as a collection agency for the tax, if the county would adopt a uniform measure. Up to this week the county, however, had asked for a 25 per cent of the take, if a uniform county tax was put into effect. The various cities in the county refused to go along with this and subsequently, went along with the plan to adopt individual city taxes without giving the county anything.

This week, the Board of Supervisors informally agreed to put a uniform tax into effect, provided the county receives 15 per cent of the sales tax revenue collected within the cities.

The InterCities Council committee on sales tax is expected to consider this proposal at a special meeting and make a recommendation. Earlier the cities had offered the county five per cent of the revenue with no strings attached or 10 per cent if the money was used for flood control. Under the new county proposal it is stipulated that the money will not be earmarked.

Mayor John M. Chargin, who along with Fairchild, is expected to lead the discussion tonight, said that he felt that a city sales tax was absolutely necessary whether the machinery is set up by the county or by the city. He said he felt that the city should continue its plans to put the levy into effect regardless of the county's proposal. It could later align itself with it.

Merchants to be Present

Milt Nelson, chamber of commerce president, will not be present at the meeting tonight. With his brother Clarence, he is vacationing in Hawaii. Almost all the other directors are expected to be on hand at the sales tax discussion tonight which vitally affects the local business people. Del Lucot, C. of C. vice-president, will preside at the meeting.

Sam Cava, secretary-manager of the Chamber, said that, in addition to the directors, he has notified local merchants of the meeting and invited them to sit in.

County Proceeds On Purchase of Jail Farm Site

Santa Clara County Board of Supervisors on Monday accepted the deed to the 415 acres on Bernal Road for a new County Jail Farm site after a superior judge had dissolved a court order restraining the board from completing the purchase.

The board accepted the deed by a 3-2 vote with Chairman Sam P. Della Maggiore and new Supervisor Oran L. Slaght dissenting. A week perviously the same two had opposed the signing of the agreement to buy the 416-acre ranch south of San Jose.

Superior Judge Byrl R. Salsman issued the court order which permits the Supervisors to go ahead with purchase plans. The order was issued because James Joice, owner of 400 acres adjoining the site, failed to post a $25,000 bond. Joice, as president of the Edenvale, Almaden, Coyote Improvement Association brought his suit on behalf of "all the taxpayers of Santa Clara County".

In his claim he said that the Board's purchase notice of intention to buy the jail site from Thomas J. Fitzgerald was erroneous in that it listed the purchase price at $250,000 while in fact the Board proposed to pay $253,470. He also charged the jail site would be a nuisance on Bernal Road.

Spencer Williams, county counsel, in an answering affidavit explained that price of the land was $250,000 but that the Board had agreed to pay $3470 for a crop of tomatoes and garlic. These crops were not considered by the Board to be part of the land purchase price.

Berkshire also stressed the need for more membership in the Campbell Chamber of Commerce in order to give residents of the community better service, and stated that the local membership was below similar groups in surrounding cities, whose actual population was below Campbell's.

Sam Cava, secretary-manager of the recently re-activiated local C. of C. introduced Judge Martin Walsh, who performed master of ceremonies duties for the evening.

Russell Pettit, manager of San Jose C. of C. was one of the guest speakers, also Milton Nelson, president of the Campbell Chamber, who gave a report on accomplishments of the local group since it was re-activated.

Eight-year-old Boy Drowns at Lexington Lake

An eight-year old Cambrian Park boy was drowned at Lexington Dam on Monday, during the first day of the YMCA day-camp. Robert (Bobby) Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Mitchell, 14420 Holden Court, Los Gatos, drowned in water 12 to 15-feet deep.

The youngster was one of the 48 boys at the first session of the new day camp on the east shore of Lexington Lake. There were six counselors with the group, under Frank Thom, leader, but apparently Bobby wandered off from them.

He sighted a boat on the edge of the water and began playing with it in violation of camp rules. He received assistance from two other boys in shoving the boat into the water but probably became panicky when he lost an oar and tried to swim to shore.

Although rated a good swimmer, when he began to sink he cried for help but the two boys on shore could not reach him and by the time they had obtained aid he had been submerged for about 10 minutes.

Mrs. Mitchell, the boy's mother, is assistant professor in the speech and drama department at San Jose. His father is an agricultural supply salesman. Bobby had just completed second grade at Cambrian School.

Private funeral services will be conducted today at the Chapel of the Hills with interment at Oak Hill Memorial Park. The boy's parents have asked that instead of flowers friends make donations in memory of Bobby to the San Jose YMCA Camp Fund for Boys.

LAW IN ACTION

ARE YOU FINANCIALLY RESPONSIBLE?

Your car crashes and someone gets hurt or killed, or it does $100 or more in damage. First, report the accident to the Motor Vehicle Department at once, surely within 15 days.

Like tourists, California drivers now can no longer dodge the process server by high-tailing it out of state. As a condition for using highways, both residents and visitors may now be properly served in a lawsuit regardless of whether or not they are in California when served. Ignore that notice and you may find yourself in "default" with a big judgment over your head, and not covered by your insurance.

Besides, whether you are to blame or not, you have to prove you are "financially responsible" if you are in an accident. When you report the accident, include evidence that your insurance covers you up to $1,000 for property damage, or $5,000 for one or $10,000 for two persons injured or dead.

You can prove financial responsibility the hard way also. Lacking proper insurance, you can put up cash or a bond for the same amounts, or show that you have a settlement from all parties in the accident.

What if you cannot do this? Well, the Motor Vehicle Department can lift your driver's license, your license plates and registration cards, and cart your car off to storage for which you pay the rent. Besides, you may be fined up to $1,000 or jailed for 90 days—or both.

When driving another's car, make sure he has public liability insurance.

The financing insurance on your unpaid-for car may or may not cover public liability. It may only protect the seller against loss.

Don't sit in your hospital bed, after the crash, trying to puzzle out whether you are covered. Read your policy now before it's too late, and make sure that you are financially responsible.

Bring in Water Thompson Urges

Senator John F. "Jack" Thompson this week urged the counties of Santa Clara, San Benito, and Alameda to "swing behind" a project to bring in outside water before it is too late.

There is three and one-half million dollars in the State Budget for the engineering and acquisition of dam sites for getting water from the Italian Slough area to the three counties," Thompson stated. "The money will be available after July 1."

The Senator warned that action is needed now or the three and one-half million dollars will possibly revert to the General Fund by act of the State Legislature.

Thompson suggested that the three counties initiate studies

19 Propositions

Veterans Loan Bond Act Gets Usual Number One Spot in Ballot Measures

The big four in ballot propositions to be voted on in November are the first four, it was revealed recently when Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan assigned numbers to the 19 measures scheduled to go before the electorate.

Number one spot, as traditional, went to the $500,000,000 veterans home loan and farm purchase bond act.

Proposition 2 will be the $100,000,000 school bond issue; and Proposition 3 is the $200,000,000 State building bond issue for mental, correctional and college facilities.

The important oil conservation issue was assigned the Proposition 4 position—thus completing the grouping of the major issues up for decision by the voters at the front end of the ballot.

The remaining 15 propositions were assigned numbers as follows:

5. Eliminates provisions requiring the service of food in bars.

6. Extends church exemption from taxation to parking lots used in connection with religious worship.

7. Changes name of State Assembly to House of Representatives.

8. Would require the Budget session of the Legislature to begin in February of each year instead of in March.

9. Would permit the borough form of govenrment for unincorporated county areas.

10. Would amend civil service requirements to permit State employment of private architects.

11. Would give county boards of freeholders a year in place of six months to draft county charters.

12. Sets maximum permissible term of Statutory State bond issues at 50 instead of 75 years.

13. Would permit aliens to own real estate in California.

14. Deletes limitations regarding method of hiring and amount of daily payroll of legislative attaches during sessions.

15. Authorizes State and local governments to acquire shares of mutual water companies to obtain public water supplies.

16. Deletes current time limits for Supreme Court to hear civil and criminal appeals.

17. Repeals constitutional provisions regulating salaries of the perior and Appellate judges.

18. Makes eligible certain justices of the peace for office as Inferior Court judges.

19. Permits legislation in cooperation with adjoining States and approval of Congress to redefine State boundaries.

California Law Requires Drivers To Dim Headlights

California law requires motorists to dim headlights when approaching another car either from the rear or head-on, says the California Highway Patrol.

"Improperly adjusted headlights or failure to depress to the lower beam when approaching another car at night is unlawful and discourteous," declared Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell.

Drivers are urged to have their car lights properly adjusted and to use them lawfully at all times," Caldwell said. "If you meet someone who does not lower the beam, do not use your high beam in retaliation. This only adds to the danger by causing both to be blinded at the same time.

"The better and safer method is to look to the right side of the pavement ahead and away from the bright lights," he continued. "Keep your car as near the right hand edge of the pavement as possible and slow down."

PLANNING ON PLANTING?

GARDENER'S CHECK LIST

By The California Association of Nurserymen

REMINDERS

2. The leaves of Spring flowering bulbs such as Tulpis and Daffodils should not be removed until they have died naturally.
3. You can conserve water by watering deeply. Water should penetrate to the full extent of the root system.
4. Tuberous Begonias and Fuchsias are heavy feeders and should be fertilized at frequent intervals.
5. Watch lawns for evidence of lawn moth damage.

A New Look

Take a mid-summer inventory of your garden now. Does it need more summer color and do you have Fall-flowering plants ready to take over when the summer plants fade? Consider your maintenance requirements. Would it be more convenient to change from annuals that require somewhat more maintenance to perennials and shrubs or natives that require less? In other words, is it time to give your garden a new look?

There are many ways to spruce up your garden. You many want to take up some of the back lawn and extend your gardening area, suggests the California Association of Nurserymen. California natives and several flowering shrubs will add new interest to the back as well as the entrance way to your house.

If you decide to add a "native" or two to your garden family, one favorite selection is the Wild Lilac (Ceanothus) which grows throughout the hills and mountains of California. One of the prettiest species is the Ceanothus cyaneus or San Diego Ceanothus, for its flower spikes are violet-blue in hue. Varieties of this species are very good too, such as Mountain Haze, Sierra Blue, La Primavera. Deep blue flowers grow on the Santa Barbara Ceanothus (C. impressus) which is another fine species of this popular native plant.

Another native and a fine selection for the inland Valleys of California is the California Grape or Mahonia pinnata, cousin to the popular Mahonia aquifolium, which it resembles in its freely branching shrub form. The California Grape will stand heat and drought better than the M. aquifolium and makes a fine foundation plant.

White and pinkish funnel-shaped flowers are borne in clusters during Spring on the Western Azalea (Rhododendron occidentale). This deciduous plant makes a fine companion of the evergreen Huckelberry.

Speaking of Azaleas, Southern Indica and Kurumes, the evergreen cousins of the Western Azalea, are also fine for a garden new look. Brilliantly colored blossoms of pink, red, salmon, orange and rose-red appear on these Azaleas from late Winter to early Spring.

But perhaps you have enough shrubs and feel an ornamental tree would add the new look you seek in your garden. The Flowering Quince, Loquat or Flowering Crab-apple are fine small trees which add color and beauty to your garden.

With these ideas in mind visit your local nurseryman and pick out some perennials, new shrubs or ornamental trees. The garden will appreciate such a pick-me-up and you will too.

Summer Fertilizing

Summertime is beguiling time in the garden. The annuals and perennials are blooming beautifully, the fruit is beginning to ripen on the trees and the roses and other flowering shrubs will never be lovelier. In fact, there's so much growing beauty around it's hard to remember, for a moment, that there's work to be done now, in the form of summer fertilizing.

Many plants especially annuals and fast-growing shrubs need a midseason application of fertilizer. Shrubs that have already bloomed should also be fed now so that they can make strong new growth before winter and develop next Spring's bloom.

To determine the amount of fertilizer needed by each plant look to the plant itself for clues. In general, the California Association of Nurserymen says rapid growers need heavy feedings and slow growers, light. Heavy "eaters" are lawns, roses, gardenias, chrysanthemums, fast-growing annuals and perennials. Slow-growing ornamental shrubs like camellias and azaleas take light feeding.

A mid-summer feeding of lawns is recommended too so that you can continue to enjoy a cool, green carpet for the remainder of the summer days. Use a complete commercial fertilizer for this mid-summer fertilizing and once a month during the summer months feed lightly with a nitrogenous fertilizer. A good clue to determins when your lawn should be fed—one that you can't possibly miss — is the first sign of grass turning yellow.

Consult with your local nurseryman about your summer fertilizing program. He can best advise you on what types of fertilizer and the correct amounts to use for your area.

Time was when many women used to hide their age . . . but nowadays they're apt to boast about it! One reason—and a big one: modern appliances. They're freeing women everywhere from chores that used to make them too old too soon.

Take Mrs. Jaberg, who lets appliances handle much of her work. Hard to believe, but she's actually 60 years old.

How about you? Are you increasing the staff of automatic appliances in your home? Remember, with P. G. and E.'s low rates for gas and electricity, you can run a whole houseful all day long for just about half the price of most lipsticks.

WESTERN GRAVEL CLIMBS

Western Gravel provided the pre-Fourth-of-July fireworks in the Campbell Little League last week by knocking off Herb Raymond league leader, from the start. After the smoke cleared on Saturday, the Gravelers had a three-game winning streak to their credit.

Herb Raymond and Campbell Stamp on Saturday were still deadlocked for first place with identical 5-2 records and were being pressed by Western Gravel with its 4-3 standing.

Friday, June 22

John Short relied on his effective curve ball to still the heavy bats of Herb Raymond on Friday by a 13-7 score, Short whiffed 11 and, in addition, slammed out three hits. Joe Newland also did well at the plate for the gravel boys by banging out a double and single.

Shutting out their opponents is getting to be an old story for the Campbell Stamp. At the end of the week on Saturday, the Stampers had whitewashed their opposition four out of seven games played. Randy Sutton, Stamper hurler, allowed only one hit. A no-hitter for him was broken up for him by Dick van Rossem who got a scratch single for the lone hit of the Campbell Lumber team in Thursday's game. The Stampers licked the Lumbermen by a 11-0 score.

Dave Buck led the victors at the plate with three bingles, one of them going for a double. Bert Cobb and Ron Spero both collected two hits.

Almost all the scoring in the Western Gravel-Campbell Stamp game took place in the first two innings. Western Gravel eventually came out on top 8-5. Dave Buck, who started the season with a no-hit, no run game, as pitcher for Campbell Stamp, was the losing pitcher in this contest against Jerry Krug, on the mound for the Gravelers. It was Buck's first loss of the season.

In the frantic first two innings the players had a time holding onto the ball and 12 errors resulted. Each team made six. With the errors plus six walks and four hits by John Short and Frazier Langford of Western Gravel and Frank Testa and Randy Sutton of Campbell Stamp, 12 runs were scored in that stanza.

Tight ball was played in the remaining four innings and the Gravelers held onto their edge and came out on the long end of the 8-5 score.

BOB SUTTON
. . . Future Yankee

SUTTON SIGNS WITH YANKEES

Bob Sutton, star pitcher on the championship Campbell High School baseball team this Spring, is now the property of the New York Yankees and has joined the Modesto Reds Class C roster.

Sutton, who set an enviable two year record as a hurler on the Buc varsity, was a member of this year's graduating class at Campbell and was signed by the Yankees within a week after getting his diploma.

While Sutton was doing his mound chores during the season, a number of scouts from the various major league teams were always in the stands.

The coaches of the Santa Clara Valley Athletic League not only placed him on their all-star team without any question but also named him the most valuable player in the league.

In two years of league competition the Campbell youth won 11 games without registering a single loss. This year he won six games, pitched 40 innings and struck out 59. His wins over the two year span include four one-hitters, three two-hitters and two three-hitters.

Californians spent $18 billion for goods and services in 1955.

MAC'S MARKET HOLDS CAMBRIAN LEAD

Mac's Market in the Cambrian Little League had stretched their lead to two full games over the pack in the standings at the close of play on Saturday night. Feature of the week was the no-run, no-hit game pitched by Al Brasile of Mac's Market against the No-Cal Construction.

A telephone helps plan for pleasure

Here's a picture of a family starting a pleasant weekend vacation trip. And here's how they planned it. His wife called the sports shop to see that their tennis rackets were restrung. She phoned the cleaners, too, about that suit she wanted to wear. And they arranged, by telephone, for the neighbors to feed the cat. He called ahead for reservations and they're off. Sure—this is a special occasion. But even if it's everyday, the telephone is always ready to do so many things, so quickly, and with so much convenience. The men and women of Pacific Telephone work to make your telephone more useful every day.

Her long sleeves came to a point at the wrists and the bodice was fashioned with lace criss-crossed to form a V-neck. Her nose-length veil descended from a white lace coronet, trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a French bouquet of lilies of the valley centered with a white orchid.

Miss Dorothea Butler, sister of the bride, was her only attendant. Her ballerina length gown was of blue lace over satin, fashioned with a bouffant skirt. Her French bouquet was made up of carnations and baby roses.

ANTI-RABIES VACINATION

In all probability the City Council will this Monday night adopt an emergency ordinance that will require anti-rabies vaccinations before they are licensed of all dogs in the city.

Dr. Elwyn Turner, county health officer, who also acts in the same capacity for the City of Campbell, has recommended the adoption of such an ordinance to protect dogs from the threat of rabies and to avoid the possibility of humans becoming afflicted with this disease.

The county has already adopted such an ordinance and this week the first anti-rabies vaccination clinic was put into operation at the County Health Department in San Jose.

We are heartily in accord with such action, for we have long known how terrible rabies disease really is. We have also known how painful and expensive is the treatment for the disease.

Many times during our years in the newspaper profession we have received appeals from desperate parents to aid in finding the dog that had bitten their child.

Under the health officer's plan, before dogs can be licensed, they first must be vaccinated.

As usual, the conscientious citizen willingly will comply with the ordinance.

Others will not bother until forced to. And there will be many others who will continue to let their dogs run loose without benefit of either a license or vaccination.

We think that every effort should be made to get the dogs vaccinated. We go along with the theory that health authorities feel that it is necessary and we are willing to concede that they know their business.

THE FIRST STEP

The off-street parking lots that are almost completed in the downtown section of Campbell present an outstanding example of far-sighted planning on the part of a single firm.

The project will directly benefit every business establishment in the center of town. It is a step in the right direction in the eventual change that will be necessary for the downtown stores, if they expect to compete on anything near an equal footing with the modern shopping centers that are being developed and will be developed on both sides of it.

Unlike many off-street parking plans in other cities, the building and expanding of these parking lots was done by the Ainsley Corporation and its affiliates as an accomodation to the stores that are leasing from the firm.

This situation is directly in the revers in so many cases.

The landlords are often prone to say the heck with it and the expense of any improvement must generally be borne by the tenant.

We feel in Campbell that the future is extremely bright because the landlord in this particular case recognizes the need to keep step with the times and that there must be changes made.

An entirely different concept of shopping is in effect today than there was when most of the stores in the downtown section were built.

Parking spaces then were not of such paramount importance. In fact, the old theory was that traffic past the door was the prime test. How the thinking has changed in this is clearly evident in every plan for a shopping center that is presented today. Parking space is given primary consideration.

Another factor today that has gained prominence in all store planning is the attractiveness of the buildings. In this highly competitive age, today's shopper is inclined to look for convenience and neat appearance as well as for price.

There is nothing wrong with the so-called downtown shopping center of Campbell that good planning and remodeling cannot cure.

We highly commend the Ainsley Corporation, under the direction of Bill Lloyd, for its initiative and for its vision.

Plans are under way also by the corporation to further face-lift its business property. We sincerely feel that the entire town will benefit from these efforts.

Community pride so very often is an intangible something that many talk about but few know what can be done about it or what it means.

Community pride is necessary, but first steps must be taken to have something about which this pride can circulate.

In one way, we in Campbell should be pleased with the situation as it exists today.

Almost everyone can see where improvements can be made and are necessary, and we hope that the actions of the major property owner in town are followed by the others who have property in the central business district.

OUT on the LIMB

George Vierhus

We spent Friday and Saturday of last week at the 18th annual Editors Conference at Stanford University. It was a very enjoyable confab and, in addition, we picked up a couple of pointers that should improve, we hope, our product.

We have a sneaking hunch, however, that renewing acquaintances of newspaper people and enjoying the various social hours was as much appreciated by those who attended as the helpful hints and information in general that were picked up.

We always come away from such conferences with a warm feeling of comradeship. Harking back probably to that old, old adage, that misery loves company.

There are times in this profession when one feels that some of the problems that must be faced are insurmountable. So it is with great relief to learn that other newspapers have similar problems, and have been able to cope with most of 'em.

We guess it is comparable to a clearing house of sorts.

Sunset Magazine always plays gracious host to the newspaper editors during one evening of the conference. We are positive that many of the editors who return year after year do so because of Sunset's hospitality.

Most of you know that the magazine's main editorial office is located in Menlo Park, just a short distance from the Stanford campus. It is located on seven acres of land beautifully landscaped, with gentle rolling lawns and trees.

The western motif has been carried out in the style of the building with long corridors opening onto patios. The offices are furnished in western style. Some of the chairs are upholstered in unborn calf leather yet.

In one section the various recipes for which Sunset is famous and which are sent to them from all over are tried out.

All in all, as you can gather, it is quite a joint.

It is quite a contrast to the organized confusion of most newspaper offices. We heard a couple of newsmen muttering that they couldn't see how it would be possible to get any work done under such ideal conditions.

—o—

There have been many times when we, and probably you, also, have envied those people who have an answer for almost anything that comes up. They never seem to be at a loss for a clever saying and their timing is perfect.

Many times we have thought of clever remarks but such thoughts come to us too often after the apropros time for saying 'em has passed.

A friend of ours who has built an enviable reputation over the years with his clever repartee and is never at a loss for the proper remark, was rendered speechless recently.

And we are quite happy to report we were the cause of it.

We were sitting in a retaurant some miles from here when this guy poked his head in the doorway from the bar. We had no idea that he was within a couple of hundred miles of us.

He was with a group of friends who had just finished playing golf. Our friend had left them for a minute to look in on the dining room.

He did not know a soul in the room, for it was the first time he had been there. But he put on his usual act and told his friends, "I just want to see if George is around."

He didn't mean us. It was just an expression.

Then he spotted us.

We are afraid it will take quite a spell for him to recover completely.

He was pretty shaken.

—o—

There was a fire in the creek bed at the end of Dillon Ave., on Saturday and it flared up again briefly on Sunday.

Patrolman Gordon Rooney was on the job to check it on Sunday and borrowed a bike from one of the youngsters hanging around to ride down the path to the bottom of the creek bed.

But Gordon didn't ride up. He turned the bike back to the kid and walked while the youngster pedaled up the hill.

Another example of youth's triumph over age.

REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS
TENTH DISTRICT, CALIFORNIA

Partianship is always accentuated in an election year, but almost anything is liable to happen when Democrats and Republicans meet head-on on the basebaall diamond and this is exactly what happens once a year in Washington. For the benefit of charity, Republican and Democratic members of the house of representatives don baseball uniforms and a five-inning game before a crowd that is more partisan than spectators at a world series in Brooklyn.

This year, the game was real a thriller. The Republicans were leading in the fifth inning. The Democrats were at bat. Two men were out, and the last man up had a strike against him. And then, with a flurry of hits, they tied the game. In the Republican half, up stepped Bruce Alger, a tall, lanky freshman congressman who is the only Republican in the Texas delegation. Alger gripped the bat and clouted a triple into the outfield which bounced off the centerfield wall. Thor Tollefson of Washington batted him in.

This won the game for the Republicans, 8-7. Speaker Sam Rayburn, who had spent the evening in the center of the Democratic rooting section, shook his head. Someone close to him claimed afterwards that he had heard the Speaker say that it was bad enough to have a Republican congressman in the Texas delegation, but to have him ruin the ball game for the Democrats to boot, well, that was just too much!!

Aside from Democratic hopes, the only other casualty was Rep. Tom Curtis of Missouri, Republican catcher, who suffered a muscle sprain in the heat of the game. The next day, his team mates paid him a moving trbute by enacting a mock funeral procession and service to and in his office. They carried a decorated box covered with flowers, and while the victim himself looked on with amusement, they eulogized his valiant deeds on the battlefield of baseball in the cause of the party.

In spite of the loss of the game, the Democrats are still ahead in the nine-game series. Before losing their ace pitcher, Don Wheeler of Georgia, as a ballot box casualty two years ago, the Democrats won seven games in a row, so the overall score now stands 7-2 in their favor for the series so far.

'Telephone Time' To Tell Story of U.S. Secret Agent

The story of one of America's first secret agents will be told by John Nesbitt on the television program "Telephone Time", Sunday, July 1 at 4:30 P.M. on station KPIX.

The secret agent was Christopher Ludwick, a Philadelphia baker who made his way into British camps during the Revolutionary War and talked hundreds of paid Hessian soldiers into laying down their arms.

On the following Sunday, Nesbitt will tell about Joseph Priestly. An English minister, he braved mob violence to continue scientific experiments leading to the discovery of oxygen.

The Telephone Time story of July 15 will deal with the frustrations, failures, and eventual triumph of a Boston doctor who taught a blind, deaf and mute little girl that life was really worth living.

QUITO QUORNER

Isabel Pechin

The Feltman Dance Group has dissolved for the summer since many of its members have gone to Scout Camp in New Mexico. This Fall, when Jack registers at San Jose State, they will resume full activity.

Jack is home this summer on Montrose Ave., and welcomes inquiries about his Indian collection and his Indian dances.

Tom Williams, chairman of the Westhope Building Committee, reports that the committee has met with the architect, and hopes to have plans out for bids in July for the new church school wing.

Joe and Emma Gann stopped in to visit the Ed Pechins on their second round trip of the USA. The couple travel by trailer. They say there is no transportation which gives anywhere near the same pleasure, even at many times the cost of trailer travel.

Joe retired from his job as engineer for the City of New York and started for Florida in January of 1953. At that time he had a 29 foot, 6300 pound "Vagabond" trailer.

The Ganns spent the winter in Florida, then left for Texas, Old Mexico, San Diego and San Jose, stopping to visit relatives and see the sights enroute.

They got back to the East Coast, where their two daughters live, for Christmas; then travelled to Florida for the winter, all this with the "Vagabond".

The three-ton trailer almost pulled the transmission out of the car. Discussion with other trailer owners convinced Joe he needed a lighter trailer for the long trips he was making, so he sold the old car and the "Vagabond".

That summer in Florida, he bought the 25 foot-3400 pound "Air-Stream" trailer he now owns. He bought a 1955 Ford Sedan with power steering and automatic transmission. He uses a tour-aid trailer hitch.

Joe and Emma say they have all the comforts of a three room apartment. They have a double sink, a four-burner gas range with oven, a shower and toilet, a fuel-oil room heater.

They have twin beds plus a love-seat which converts into a double bed. They shop for groceries just as if they were living in a house. When they move the trailer, their only precaution is to take the ceramics off the shelves in the living room and see that the containers of the juices in the frigidaire have their lids on. It takes about ten minutes to pull up stakes and move out of a trailer camp.

The "Air-Stream" has a streamlined fuselage patterned after an airplane. That together with its light weight, makes towing it very simple.

When the Ganns stop for the night, they check through their Trailer Park Directory for a trailer park. A 4-star park is super de luxe. 3, 2, or 1 star is thoroughly satisfactory, but a park that has no star is doubtful.

Sometimes, on a long trip, when no satisfactory trailer park is near, they pull off the road onto the graded area where the long distance truck drivers park for the night. Their water tank and their bottled gas enable them to cook their meals and do their household chores adequately.

Since buying their "Air-Stream" in 1954, they made the round trip from Florida to New Jersey, spending the 1954-55 winter in Florida. Then west to Texas, where they wintered in 1955.

This Spring they toured the Southwest, arriving in San Diego in May. Now they are leaving for Oregon and Washington, then East to New Jersey, to visit their daughters.

Trailer park prices range from $1.25 a night for the poorest up to $35 a month for the 4-star parks. These latter may have a swimming pool of Italian marble, and show the latest movies twice a week in the lounge. All parks have shower, toilet and laundry facilities.

Before Joe retired he took a 12 week course in commercial photography, so that he would have a hobby to occupy him. His first winter in Florida he got infected with the real estate bug. Now he finds the chief use of his photography is as an aid to his dabbling in real estate. This he begins whenever they settle down for a few month's stay in a locality. Both the Ganns vow they are trailer livers for the rest of their lives.

SAN TOMAS SUMMARY

FR 8-8040

The Fred Smiths are grandparents again as of Friday morning. Regina and Frank Koehler have a little daughter, Barbara Ann, born at O'Connors. Mother and daughter are doing nicely

Maud Zink is in the County Hospital for an indefinite stay. The 82 year old woman, who lives by herself on Elam Ave., fell down the basement stairs last week.

She cracked three ribs and suffered a light concussion. The doctors say that her condition is satisfactory, but refuse to make any promises as to when she can go home.

Neighbors are planning a shower of "Get well" cards. Her nearest relative is a sister in Medford, Oregon.

San Tomas No. 2, the fire engine which is kept behind Fred Smith's Rumpus Room, put out a grass fire near the intersection of San Tomas Creek and Smith Creek Friday about noon.

Alen Conn and Allen Barthelo were riding down San Tomas Road on their bicycles. Seeing the blaze, they hurried to the fire station and reported it.

When the siren sounded L. Hoover, H. Greer, J. Caudill and W. Jones responded, and had the fire out before it spread more than a few square yards.

Engine No. 2 was putting a last protective coat of water on a telephone pole when Engine 11 rolled up. However, it was not necessary for number 11 to get out any of its equipment.

A new law which prescribes stiff penalties for littering our highway roadsides is now in effect. Don't throw litter from your car—carry a trash bag.

Herb Raymond's Campbell Orphans still lead the Campbell area Little League. So far no commercial sponsor willing to spend the $250 initially required to equip the 15 youngsters has been found.

Five of the boys are ten year olds, five are eleven and five are twelve, who must bow out of Little League next year and try for Pony League. Rex Kendall is assistant manager.

Little League in Campbell began in 1952 when that town had two teams in the Burbank League. In 1953 Campbell had its own league. This year Cambrian has split off from Campbell. The Los Gatos-Saratoga area has a 4 team league also.

Little League plays hard-ball, but its diamond is the same as the Grammar School soft-ball diamond. A raised pitcher's mound is recommended but not required.

Area winners play in the district finals. These winners play in the State finals. The last is the National finals. Guy Troedson is the authority on Little League in this area.
